Boy, 6, Hit By Truck, Injured Critically

13 Hurt in 30 Weekend
Traffic Accidents; 4
Victims in One Mishap

An accident in which a six-year-old Madison boy was injured critically and another in which four persons were hurt in a two-car crash were among 30 traffic mishaps reported to Quad-City authorities during the weekend. A total of 13 persons were injured.

In critical condition at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, is six-year-old Morris Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kilmer, 2038 Edwardsville road, Madison, who was hit by a truck about 4:30 p.m. Friday when he was crossing four-lane Edwardsville road near his home.

The boy, who suffered a brain concussion, underwent an emergency operation yesterday. He was in a coma when taken to Barnes from the local hospital.

Madison police said the truck was being driven in a westerly direction by Sam Neal Jr., East St. Louis, who told officers the boy darted directly in front of his vehicle and he was unable to avoid the mishap. Witnesses confirmed Neal's report.

The youngster, a first grader at Madison Harris school, had instructions to cross "the highway" at the McCambridge avenue underpassway, but it is believed he may have gone to visit friends or a relative on his way home from school. He also suffered injuries to his left hand and possible internal injuries.

Four Persons Injured
Four persons were injured when an eastbound auto driven by Olan J. Goeller, 35, of 3975 Lake street, tried to pass a truck and sideswiped a vehicle driven by Glenn Heath, 24, of 2238 Fourteenth street, at 6:50 p.m. Thursday on Highway 162 a quarter of a mile east of State 45.

Those injured were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Mrs. Pearl Goeller, 45, was admitted following X-rays. Goeller was treated and released after X-rays of the spine and ankles. Heath was treated for pains in the chest, left elbow and both knees, and Mrs. Brenda Heath, 46, had pains in the chin and abrasions. Both were released.

Two persons were hurt Friday afternoon in a two-car collision at 20th street and Delmar avenue. Admitted to the hospital was four-year-old Vincent Saggio with a forehead injury. Also hurt was Vera Saggio, 29. They were passengers in a car driven by Vincent Saggio, 30, of the Chain of Rocks Trailer Court, who was going east on 20th street.

The other auto was being driven south by William Pulley, 30, of 20th street.

7 Local Youths Drafted; Quota Of 45 for March

Seven Quad-City area youths were drafted Friday at the county selective service office in Edwardsville where an announcement was made that the quota for next month will be the largest in recent years—45 to be drafted on March 29.

Those drafted Friday were Harold Loy Walker of Roxana, formerly of Granite City; Vincent Acquaviva of St. Louis, formerly of Granite City; John Anthony Bonvicino Jr., William David Cox and Clyde Daniel Norris, all of Granite City, and Robert Ralph Russell and Richard Raymond George Jr., both of Madison.

The new draftees reported along with 13 youths from the Edwardsville area and were members of the Edwardsville World War I Veterans Baracks 977.

The March draft quotas include the 45 Quad-Cityans to be inducted on March 29, 45 from the Alton area on March 1 and 41 from the Edwardsville area on March 15.

Pre-induction quota for next month is six local youths to report to March 29.

A spokesman for the selective service office said the March quotas for the draft are the county's largest since 1965.

The youngest, a first grader at Madison Harris school, had instructions to cross "the highway" at the McCambridge avenue underpassway, but it is believed he may have gone to visit friends or a relative on his way home from school. He also suffered injuries to his left hand and possible internal injuries.

ASF Plant To Install 2 Electric Furnaces

Plant Expansion Also Planned This Year in
$5.5 Million Program

Two 30-ton electric arc furnaces will be installed at the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City to replace open hearth units now in use, it was announced Saturday. A plant expansion of 5000 square feet also is planned.

The improvement at the Granite City plant will represent a major phase of a $5.5 million improvement program that also will include installation of a 30-ton electric arc furnace at the American Steel Foundries plant at Alliance, Ohio. The plant there will be expanded by 13,000 square feet.

R. O. Tibbals, ASF vice-president of manufacturing, said most of the work is to be completed this year and the new furnaces should be ready for operation in spring next year.

He said a combination of existing floor space and the new additions will house the furnaces and auxiliary scrap-handling equipment at both locations. A new chemical laboratory for metal analysis will be built at Alliance.

The new melting facilities will replace open hearth furnaces now used to produce steel for casting a large variety of component parts for railroad cars.

Air Pollution Equipment
Tibbals pointed out that plans at both plants feature bag-house type air filtration systems designed to meet the most modern codes governing air pollution.

He said the construction work will in no way interfere with present production operations. Tibbals noted that "the change-over to electric arc furnaces will enable ASF to better serve customers because of greater production flexibility and process control." In addition, he said, melting capacity will be substantially increased.

In addition to its Granite City and Alliance plants, American Steel Foundries has manufacturing facilities at East Chicago and Hammond, Ind. While cast steel railroad components are the principal ASF products, the company also manufactures forgings for railroad and general industrial use, castings for the trucking and earthmoving industries; springs for freight cars, locomotives and construction equipment; brakes for railroad and rapid transit cars, and pins and bushings.

American Steel Foundries is an operating unit of Amsted Industries which has 33 plants in 15 states and Canada.

$6 Millions Construction

PE Building, 248-Apartment Units to be Erected on SIU-SW Campus

Architects' preliminary plans for an estimated $6 million in construction projects on Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus were approved by the SIU board of trustees at a meeting on the local campus Friday.

Approval was given for 248-family housing units, expected to be raised this fall, as one source of revenue needed to advance the athletic program.

Judge Asked to Replace One Of Poll Judges at Chouteau

James E. Greer, 5504 Maryville road, one of five judges for next Monday's Chouteau village incorporation, should not be permitted to serve in the polling place, a group of residents said in a letter mailed Friday to Chief Circuit Judge James O. Monroe Jr.

The letter was prepared by Thad R. Carter, an Alton attorney who also represented a group which earlier sought to have the proposed village boundaries declared insufficient in regard to compactness.

Greer is one of two persons who testified in the circuit court that they circulated the petitions that led to calling of the incorporation election.

The letter sent to the judge follows: "I am forwarding at the request of a large group of objectors two newspaper articles, one in the Feb. 12 issue of the Granite City Press-Record and the other from the Feb. 12 issue of the Alton Evening Telegraph."

"Both are accounts of an incident occurring Feb. 10, 1968, at a tavern in the proposed incorporation area."

"The James E. Greer referred to in the articles is one of the signers of the petition of Tower Lake. Included will be 200 two-bedroom apartments and 48 three-bedroom units."

Construction is expected to start May 1 and completion is set for September 1969. The housing units are to be financed through the sale of $3.5 million in revenue bonds and $100,000 from university funds for utilities and site development.

The physical education building will be erected west of the campus' academic core area along the bluffs, with construction expected to begin July 1. Completion is scheduled for the summer of 1970.

A $16,667 federal grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and $1,544,333 in Illinois Building Authority bonds will be used to finance construction, trustees were told.

The new physical education building will provide instruction in physical education, exercise rooms, gymnasium space and locker and shower facilities.

Architects for the family housing project plans are Bilvas and Page of Chicago, with William Flippo of Alton architect for the physical education building. The next step will be a call for bids.

Home Outside GC Limits Burns to Ground

The four-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Flaugher, 2667 Highway 3—a block outside the city limits—burned to the ground early Saturday morning.

The couple was away for the weekend to attend an archery show in Milwaukee, Wis., and did not know all their possessions were destroyed until they returned about 12:30 a.m. today. They are staying temporarily at a motel.

No fire departments were on the scene, and neighbors attempted to control the blaze with three garden hoses. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ellis, 2669 Highway 3, was badly scorched with damage placed at several hundred dollars.

The Ellis family was aroused by a passing motorist about 3 a.m. Saturday, and at that time the Flaugher home was enveloped in flames that were blowing against the upstairs bedroom window of Gary Ellis, 12.

Mrs. Ellis said her husband, a Nestle Co. employee, called the Granite City fire department, but it did not respond. The city council adopted a policy last year for the department not to answer alarms outside the city limits because of the liability involved. The Venice, Mitchell Long Lake and Army Depot departments also were called and did not respond.

Neighbors and a passerby helped the Ellis family remove their furniture and belongings from their threatened home. "We finally got everything back in about 7 a.m.," Mrs. Ellis commented, adding that she was most thankful for the assistance given. She feels certain the unidentified motorist who alerted them, possibly saved their lives. The Ellises also have a daughter, Carolyn, 17.

The Flaughers, who have been married about a year, had left Friday with their brother, Fred, to go to Milwaukee. Ronald Flaugher is a construction worker and his wife is employed at a St. Louis bank. They have no children.

No estimate was available of the loss, and the cause of the blaze is not known.

Fire protection from Granite City would be available to the built-up area at the end of Missouri avenue through annexation to the city, it is pointed out by city officials.

Levee District Seeks $5 Million

Want Legislative Act
Authorizing Bonds
Without Referendum

Legislation that would clear the way for issuance of approximately $5 millions in bonds without a referendum may be sought by the East Side Levee and Sanitary district in this year's special session of the Illinois General Assembly, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

The bond issue proceeds would provide about $3.2 millions as the levee district's matching share for $5 millions in federal grants for a hillside drainage program, with the balance applied to a "pressing need" for improvement of the district's vast network of drainage channels, pumping stations and other facilities at Madison and St. Clair counties.

Lawrence Tolar, president of the levee district board, said efforts to obtain legislative help in the year's special summer session will depend upon the district's ability to locate a legislative sponsor who would introduce the bill by March 4.

Will Accept Bills
Illinois Republican legislative leaders announced at Springfield last week that a one-day session will be held by the House and Senate on March 4 to permit introduction of new bills.

House Speaker Ralph T. Smith, (R) Alton, and Senate President W. Russell Arrington, said they would permit the introduction of bills without limitation on the nature of the legislation and refer them to committee to be held until the opening of the special session on July 15.

Tolar admitted that the levee

Boiler in Church Explodes; Blasts Doors, Windows

An oil-fired boiler in the basement of the educational building of St. John United Church of Christ, 2900 Namekoi road, exploded Saturday afternoon only a short time after a class of retarded children had passed through the room to board a bus.

Rev. Paul Surbey, pastor of St. John Church, the only person in the building at the time, said the blast "sounded like a bomb" and rocked the entire building.

The explosion, which occurred about 4 p.m., blew off the boiler, ruptured boiler plates and tore two large metal doors off their hinges. All windows in the boiler room were blown out.

Rev. Surbey, who was in his office upstairs when the explosion occurred, said the entire boiler was blackened by what apparently must have been one huge gust of fire from the boiler, but that nothing caught fire. The blast tore out the fuse, he said.

Children Passed through Room
"It gives me chills to think what could have happened if the explosion had occurred when those children were going through the room," Rev. Surbey said. He explained that a class of about 10 or 12 retarded children is conducted on Saturday afternoon in the basement of the church. The children left about 2 p.m., passing through the boiler room to a garage where their bus was parked.

He said investigation revealed the explosion apparently was caused by a thermostat defect that flooded the furnace with oil while it was not burning. When the building temperature called for heat, fumes from the igniting system set off fumes from the pool of oil in the furnace.

Rev. Surbey said he was unable to make an estimate of the damage. The loss is covered by insurance, he said.

The pastor said he was at a loss to explain the absence of fire as the result of the blast. He said Sunday services were conducted as usual in the church, while children's classes were moved to basement rooms of the church that are heated by a separate heating unit.

2000 More Pupils By 1972, Another 3000 in 1973-77

An increase in students of about 5000 is anticipated by Granite City school officials during the next ten years, based on studies of the existing population and of various trends affecting enrollment.

Southeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission projections indicate the enrollment of 14,283 this fall will climb to 19,580 by 1977-78. The community unit school district thinks the figure by then will be 20,000.

Although different methods were utilized, the two estimates nearly coincide in each year of the ten-year comparison. SWIMAPC projections exceed those of the school district by 1972, after which the local school officials expect a slightly higher enrollment than do the planning officials.

Next Fall

A yearly breakdown of the estimates for the ten years beginning in 1968-69 and ending in 1977-78, showing the schools' figure first and the planners' figure second, follows: 14,834 and 14,870; 15,249 and 15,400; 15,664 and 15,940; 16,204 and 16,430; 16,724 and 16,990; 17,302 and 17,470; 17,850 and 18,000; 18,502 and 18,530; 19,242 and 19,030; and 20,059 and 19,580.

There is a sharper difference in their estimates of the age makeup of the enrollment. By 1977-78, the school district looks for 12,038 elementary pupils, 4222 seventh through ninth graders and 3989 tenth through twelfth grade students. SWIMAPC expects there to be 10,680, 4540 and 4060 in the three groups.

Five-Year Outlook

Current planning regarding school needs is centering on the difference between the present school population and the probable enrollment in 1972-73, halfway through the ten-year projections.

Five years from now, SWIMAPC foresees that the Granite City district will have 16,800 pupils—6540 elementary, 4100 seventh through ninth grades and 3550 tenth through twelfth grades. School authorities anticipate 16,724—9805, 3697 and 3222.

Similar figures at the present time are 8325, 3234 and 2781.

Thus, planning for expansion during the next five years is believed to involve gains of 1200 to 1400 grade school youngsters, 400 to 800 seventh through ninth grade pupils and 400 to 500 more in the top three grades.

Comparing the lowest figures and the highest figures in these estimates, the gain by 1972-73 could range from 2000 to 2700, a yearly average increase of 400 to 540 students.

A breakdown of the district's enrollment during past 10 years shows an increase of 6156, a yearly average of 615. Present elementary buildings are described in a school report as being 758 students below the needed capacity in 1970-71 and 1480 students below in 1972-73.

Children Already Born

"These potential students are already in our community, and facilities must be provided for them," the report relates.

"Presentation of a construction program and a bond issue to finance such expansion has long been the accepted procedure for provision of new facilities."

"Such procedure, however, gives little or no margin for error in a project of new construction. And it always involves very substantial costs in interest paid."

"The bond issue of 1964, for example, was sold at very favorable interest rates. But interest cost, still represented $270,985 or a total of 23.89% of the bond funds received."

New Law Explained

The report points out that "current legislation makes possible the accumulation of funds for construction purposes."

"This is not a 'blank check' proposal but rather provides that permission must be given by referendum for each construction project to be undertaken."

"Funds could be accumulated by means of a six-cent levy for such purpose and could be accumulated through a any excess levy available in the building fund maximum of 37 1/2 cents per $100 assessed valuation."

Vote on Building Proposals

In either case, permission by referendum is required on each project.

"It is recognized that deviation from previously accepted procedure is generally subject to resistance."

"As pay-as-you-go procedure made possible by current statutes would, however, seem to have sufficient merit to be worthy of very serious consideration."

"It is recognized that exact needs and costs would have to be clearly defined prior to any specific action, but it is estimated that a minimum of $3,500,000 will need to be expended for school construction and equipment in the next six to seven-year period."

At the end of the 1967-68 fiscal year, bond debt of the district will be $4,880,000 with interest due on such issues in the amount of $73,015 or a total obligation of $5,612,015.

Might Approach Bond Limit

"Issuance of an additional $3,500,000 would increase bond debt to $8,380,000 with interest of approximately $2,074,000 over ten years or a total obligation of $10,454,000. Bonding limits established by law are 5% of assessed value or approximately $10 million based on $200 million assessed valuation."

"While interest rates paid on bonds previously issued by the district have been quite favorable, present indications point to a rate of approximately 9% on any future issue."

"In projecting possible action on a pay-as-you-go procedure, it is noted that such a five-cent rate over the next five years will provide sufficient revenue for completion of Life Safety Code remodeling work when the sum is combined with currently budgeted funds."

"Estimated building fund requirements, exclusive of Life Safety, are estimated for 1968-69 and subsequent years as $200,000 for operations and $100,000 for miscellaneous capital expenditures, equivalent to 18-cent tax rate for essentials ($200 million valuation)."

Seven-Year Program

"The 19 1/2-cent difference in this rate and in the 37 1/2-cent maximum building fund rate, together with six cents added by referendum for construction, would provide 25 1/2 cents or $10,000 a year—$35,000 with seven years."

"Pay-as-you-go would eliminate interest costs involved in a bond issue."

"Depending on the speed with which construction and subsequent expenditures were started, it could involve less anticipated warrant interest, since funds could be borrowed against a tax levy as soon as the levy was made."

"In no case, however, could such anticipated warrant interest in any year exceed an interest charge on $500,000 for one year. Interest should actually be substantially less than such a maximum, since the full amount of the levy would not be borrowed at one time."

$1,252,200 Saving

"In each of the first five years, pay-as-you-go would result in a tax rate 10% cents higher than comparable bond issue cost. After five years, however, the rate would decrease sharply and an overall average rate for the 10-year period would be 6.361 cents less per year under a pay-as-you-go plan, a total tax saving over the 10 years of 62.61 cents or $1,252,200."

"All calculations are based on assessed valuation of $200 million. As assessed values rise, a lesser tax rate would be required to produce the same amount of funds."

Level or Decreasing Rate

"For example, a 25-cent rate is required to produce $500,000 with a $200 million assessed value. But with a $250 million assessment, only a 20-cent rate would be needed to produce the same amount of revenue."

"Immediate needs projected by a pay-as-you-go procedure and, once implemented, future needed construction could be handled without bond debt and with a continuing uniform or perhaps decreasing tax rate."

10-Cent Leeway Now

"Educational fund budgeted expenditures increased more than $800,000 in 1967-68. A tax rate increase of 10 cents in 1968-69, which would put the district at the current legal maximum of $2.15 for the educational fund, would produce only about $200,000—and even this sum would not be received until the 1969-70 fiscal year."

"Budget increases for the years from 1969-70 on cannot presently be forecast with any reasonable degree of accuracy. Such increases would be largely contingent upon salary agreements yet to be negotiated."

Venice Adopts New City Code

The Venice city council officially adopted the newly revised city Code Friday night with passage of an ordinance making all of the code ordinances effective.

All of the ordinances in the code have been updated and many new ordinances have been added, particularly in the field of building and home standards regulations. A new plumbing code is included. Code revisions were made by City Attorney Harry Hartman during the last two years. Ordinances were given first and second readings and approved as they were completed, but were not made effective until all of the bills were completed. The council, in a brief and routine meeting, also approved an ordinance granting Union Electric an easement over McKinley bridge property for construction of a steel transmission tower and operation of an overhead 345-KV transmission tower.

Senders elegance with diamonds by the district have been quite favorable, present indications point to a rate of approximately 9% on any future issue.

"In projecting possible action on a pay-as-you-go procedure, it is noted that such a five-cent rate over the next five years will provide sufficient revenue for completion of Life Safety Code remodeling work when the sum is combined with currently budgeted funds."

"Estimated building fund requirements, exclusive of Life Safety, are estimated for 1968-69 and subsequent years as $200,000 for operations and $100,000 for miscellaneous capital expenditures, equivalent to 18-cent tax rate for essentials ($200 million valuation)."

Seven-Year Program

"The 19 1/2-cent difference in this rate and in the 37 1/2-cent maximum building fund rate, together with six cents added by referendum for construction, would provide 25 1/2 cents or $10,000 a year—$35,000 with seven years."

"Pay-as-you-go would eliminate interest costs involved in a bond issue."

"Depending on the speed with which construction and subsequent expenditures were started, it could involve less anticipated warrant interest, since funds could be borrowed against a tax levy as soon as the levy was made."

"In no case, however, could such anticipated warrant interest in any year exceed an interest charge on $500,000 for one year. Interest should actually be substantially less than such a maximum, since the full amount of the levy would not be borrowed at one time."

$1,252,200 Saving

of study by various University agencies, outside consultants, and a specially constituted Advisory Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics.

In brief, the board's action authorizes a gradual expansion through necessary construction and student fee increases to provide facilities and scholarships for increased emphasis on all sports. While mentioning football as a sport to be strengthened, the trustees cautioned against penalizing other sports.

"In line with recommendations of the University Council, we feel the University should embark on a program of growth and development of all sports which is consistent with the growth and development of the rest of the University," Morris told the board. "We also feel that this expansion must not penalize either the academic growth of the University or its support of any particular sport."

The program envisioned, Morris said, not only would provide more NCAA athletic scholarships for football but also for other sports.

Engineer Dispute Expected At GC Council Tonight

Shaping up for tonight's Granite City council session is a battle over city engineering contracts.

It is not listed on the three-page agenda that went out Thursday afternoon, but it was later Thursday that Alderman Ford Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, learned that two engineering contracts approved by the council on Jan. 15 had not been signed by Mayor Partney.

Neither had they been voted. "This will tie up the Johnson road project which we had hoped to get approved by the state for motor fuel tax funds for a spring contract letting," Johnson said.

The engineering firm of Research Planning Design Associates, St. Louis, which awarded both the MFT and consulting engineer contracts by the council, was planning to forward the MFT agreement to the Illinois state highway department for approval.

State Requires Signature "We can't do it without the mayor's signature," Engineer Kenneth Kieberger said, "and the mayor told me Thursday he wasn't going to sign it. As of today, we're holding up work on the Johnson road plans."

Mayor Partney told the Press-Record he was dissatisfied with the firm. "We're supposed to get 40 hours engineering a month under the consulting engineering contract, and I doubt if we have a qualified engineer in the city hall engineering offices 40 hours a year. Look at that office. It's a mess. You can't find anything."

The mayor added that the council members had not conferred with him on hiring an engineer and that he did not want the responsibility of signing the contract and the expenditures of tax funds. He indicated that he might authorize someone else to sign it for the city.

The mayor said he did not take veto action because he felt his veto would be overridden.

Letter to Council

Kieberger pointed out his firm advised the city by letter in December that the contracts were expiring Dec. 31, and authorization was given for renewal resolutions to be prepared.

The mayor and the engineering firm tangled late last year over fees for special improvement projects that had been cancelled and over other projects, including Woodlawn avenue improvement and surveys in an alley at the rear of the city hall.

Disputes over engineering contracts have become almost routine in recent years, council observers note. Tonight's meeting starts at 8 o'clock.

Reading Problem Parkview Topic

Francis Herman, president of Parkview school PTA, presided at a monthly meeting Thursday evening. Reports were submitted by Mrs. Norma Mendoza, secretary, and Mrs. John Farrell, treasurer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs gave a talk on Founders Day.

Dr. Benjamin Rose spoke on "Reading Problems." He distributed a photo to the parents showing they could see the picture and not recognize the particular object. He said in this way they could better understand that some children who have difficulty reading are able to see but do not recognize words readily.

He commended the school for the concentrated motor action skills used in the kindergarten room, giving the teacher a chance to tell if a child is progressing with eye-hand coordination.

Mrs. Briggs introduced a new teacher, Mrs. Beverly Varty, who will replace Mrs. Dorena Knigge.

Business discussed was a ways and means project, with the students selling candy from the Surrey Candy Kitchens. It was approved. Herman said the funds will be used to purchase balls for the playground and to help finance the annual school picnic.

He gave a report on the recent Area PTA Council appreciation dinner. Elected from the membership to serve with Mrs. Norma Mendoza on the nominating committee were Mrs. June Ybarra and Bob Hill-debrand.

Mrs. Helen Lindsay was authorized to purchase a coffee-maker to be used by the PTA at the school.

It was noted that as a temporary improvement in vehicular traffic problems, school buses will load and unload children at the curb instead of in front of the school. Parents are being requested to not park in this area when picking up their children.

The PTA board will meet March 12 and the PTA on March 21. Refreshments followed the meeting, served by fourth grade room mothers.

Salvation Army Expenditures in '67 Totaled $44,783

An installation of new officers, a talk by Atty. Irvin State and presentation of the annual report were highlights of the annual meeting of the advisory board of the Salvation Army.

The dinner meeting was held at Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church and was attended by 68 persons. Loren Davis, retiring board chairman, gave the welcoming address. The new chairman is Edw. Stone, manager of the A&P Market. Other officers installed were Richard West, vice-chairman; Arthur Harris, secretary; and Roy Lynn, treasurer.

In his annual report, Salvation Army Capt. Harold F. Thomas said total expenditures in 1967 amounted to $44,783, and the balance on Dec. 31 was $2243. Income included $22,500 from the United Fund, $8886 from the "Tree of Lights," $7089 from other donations and $8947 from memberships and publications.

The expenditures were $13,526 for salaries and employees' benefits; $30,405 for community services, welfare and activities; $6843 for building, equipment and maintenance and $4008 for communications, transportation and offices.

52 Persons a Day
An accumulated total of 18,944 aid and service cases were handled during 1967 by the Salvation Army. Capt. Thomas said that on an average day, 52 persons receive aid or service—a meal for a homeless man, counsel for those in need of advice, emergency assistance for fire victims, material aid for a mother and family during a crisis.

"Any or all of these services as well as many others constitute a day's activities at the Salvation Army," the captain pointed out.

During the past year, the Salvation Army provided emergency food, clothing and other temporary aid in 234 cases, representing 881 individuals. In transient welfare, lodgings were provided in 10 cases along with 136 meals. Several were provided transportation home.

The League of Mercy made 32 visits to hospitals and institutions to contact 1703 patients, and the total hours given by volunteers was 3023.

Youth Activities

In youth activities there were 312 recreational and character building activities with total attendance of 6788. In addition there were 121 summer recreation sessions with 2001 youngsters in attendance. A group of 24 attended seasonal encampments at Bourbon, Mo. The adult activities included 190 worship services with total attendance of 4472, including 782 Senior Citizens at 21 group meetings.

Through the "Tree of Lights," 576 families were assisted with food baskets, clothing and toys. Among the special guests present were Peter Ferris of the Associated Retailers; Maj. and Mrs. Charles Delano of the Army Depot; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. L. Metcalf of the school board and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klesh of the Eagles Lodge; Sisters Mary Thomas and Philomena of St. Elizabeth Hospital; Fire Chief and Mrs. Earl Fronabarger; Chief of Detectives and Mrs. Joseph Kestel; John Solenberger and Robert McCormick of the United Fund and Orville Ganz, president of the Protestant Welfare board.

Mal Landfill Co. Squabble Goes On, State Criticized

The Illinois Department of Public Health is discriminating against and harassing major landfill operations in Madison county, particularly the Mal operation on Chouteau Island.

If the state continues its tactics, the county will be without dumping sites and could become "another New York City in a garbage crisis," Clifford said.

The Mal operation, conducted on Chain of Rocks bridge property leased from the city of Madison, was cited again Wednesday by a state inspector for violations of the state code and ordered to comply with regulations by 5 p.m. Thursday or shut down.

The landfill several days earlier had been approved by another state inspector, and Clifford, in a frustrating comment, said "I have just received a letter from the state public health director stating that the landfill was given a clean bill of health."

Clifford said that he and members of the sanitation committee were at the landfill site from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, and at 5:30 p.m. the site was clean.

He also charged that the state had discriminated against the adjacent Chouteau Island landfill which recently closed because of what operators claimed were harassment tactics by the state.

Clifford said that Leo Able and W. W. Miller, Mal operators, were informed by the state inspector Wednesday that disposal or refuse from Missouri would be halted unless the dump was brought into immediate compliance.

The operators said the state inspector claimed that edges of the landfill operation were not covered and that bales of paper and debris were on hand. They said the bales were to be used to help provide access to "bad weather" areas of the landfill, as suggested by a state inspector a week earlier.

Clifford said that if the landfill, the largest in the county which provides for refuse of 100,000 Madison county residents, could not accept Missouri business, would be forced out of business or would be forced to charge county municipalities three to five times the current rate of 25 cents per cubic yard.

The county administrator said he plans to file for a state exemption to permit the county to handle its own sanitation affairs, under its own ordinance, without interference from the state.

Clifford and the county sanitation committee were to meet in Springfield today with state sanitation officers to discuss the situation.

State officials, meanwhile, disclaimed any harassing tactics, maintaining that they were conducting a drive against landfill operations in Madison and St. Clair counties as they were the worst in the state.

Fire Safety Code Bids to be Called By Madison Board

Projects to improve Madison schools to meet standards set in the state fire safety code may be ready for bid calls within two months, Raymond Dragich, superintendent, announced at a meeting of the board of education Thursday night.

He said plans and specifications for the work should be completed by late spring by school Architect Virgil Dulgeroff.

As an example of the type of work involved, he said all schools having open stairwells will require fire doors and glass enclosures at a cost of about $3000 per school, depending on the number of stairwells.

He told the board that the district has three years from the completion of an architectural survey to meet the state standards.

Election Plans
During the meeting, the board adopted a resolution setting April 13 as the date for the annual school election for two members this year.

The first day to file petitions will be Feb. 28, and the last day to file will be March 23.

Terms of Oel M. Blumenshain, board president, and Frank L. Derner are expiring. They have obtained petitions for re-election.

John Patchell, assistant superintendent, reported on plans to contract with the McDonnell-Douglas school to handle an automatic class scheduling system for the 790 students at Madison high school.

He said the computerized system would cost $437 for two years and work could be completed in two or three weeks by one person. He added that it would relieve five staff members of a task which previously took four to five weeks.

Other area school districts, including Granite City, utilize the McDonnell-Douglas service.

The board, which is considering purchase of an accounting machine for use in the central office, heard a proposal by an agent of the Burroughs Corp. who quoted a complete cost of $784. The board plans to investigate and inspect other models before taking action.

Supt. Dragich reported on a hearing by the State School Problems Commission held Thursday in Belleville and said that superintendents are asking that the state school foundation level be increased from $400 to $500 per pupil.

He said Illinois ranks 37th among the states in state aid for pupils while it is the third wealthiest state in the nation.

He also said that superintendents asked that state aid be based on total enrollment rather than on average daily attendance, since full school expenses continue despite absences.

The board authorized the superintendent to secure bids and estimates the costs of textbooks, supplies, library books, visual aids, equipment and other materials for the 1968-69 school year and to make purchases on the basis of quality and price.

State Inspection
Supt. Dragich told the board a written report on the state inspection of district schools is expected in five or six weeks from the office of the state superintendent of public instruction. He added that an audit report by the head of a 15-man inspection team was favorable to the district.

The board again retained C. J. Schloesser & Co., Alton accounting firm, to conduct the 1967-68 school audit.

The school treasurer's report showed cash balances of $328,008 in the educational fund, including investments of $200,000; a deficit of $832 in the school lunch fund; $104,474 in the building fund, including a $100,000 investment; and $45,906 in the bonds and interest fund, for a district total of $477,456.

The board approved January educational salaries totaling $102,323, including withholding of $30,978; school lunch salaries of $7390 including withholding of $882; and January bills of $14,241 from the educational fund, $5857 from the building fund and $7716 from the lunch fund.

Warriors, Trojans Chalk Up Conference Basketball Victories

The Granite City high school basketball team, led by the 35 point shooting of Gary Simpson, beat the Wood River Oilers 63-52 at the memorial gym here Saturday evening in a Southwestern Conference pairing.

The Warriors are now 5-6 in the conference and 9-11 for the season. Simpson has 476 points for the season.

Coach Don Deterding said, "when the game started, the Oilers used a man-to-man defense against us and the one who guarded Simpson found that he just couldn't handle him by himself. After the first quarter, they adjusted their defense and this affected our offensive plays. Simpson got 19 of his 35 points in the first quarter."

The Warriors led 29-15, 50-34, and 65-42 after the first three periods.

"The team shot 50% from the field and from the free throw line we did an outstanding job with 21 of 25 attempts for 84%," the coach related.

Rebounding Edge
"We also were able to rebound the Oilers, 39 to their 21, Simpson led with 11."

"I didn't think our defense played especially well in the first half but holding them to only eight points in the third quarter was a fabulous job. From there on, I just used substitutes to finish the game. It was a good chance to give our starters a rest."

"I would like to give credit to John VanBuskirk, who played one of his best games Saturday night. He made 13 points and had six interceptions and six assists."

"Sophomore Dave Melzer is coming along fine and was able to get 16 points. He is doing a good job filling in for Mike White. He hustles and carries his share of responsibilities on the floor."

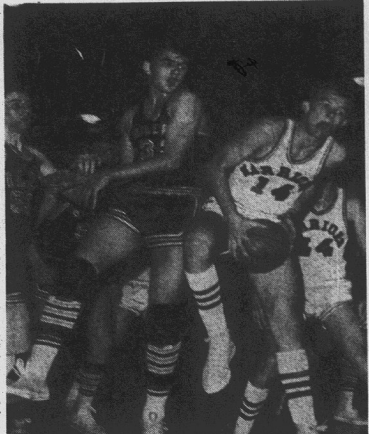

Roger Belshe scored six points, Mike Hutchings six, Steve Harris three, Jeff Jones two and Gary Ridenour two.

Extend Deadline for Teams in Inter-City

Managers and coaches of the Inter-City Baseball League met Sunday afternoon at Maryville to discuss plans for the coming year. Nine teams have registered, and it was announced by League Secretary John Lucas that an extra two weeks for teams wanting to enter the league is being granted.

The new deadline is March 10, when the next meeting will be held at the East Alton Community Center, Third and Howard streets.

It was decided that the teams will play a game schedule and five-game play-offs.

SUCCESSFUL REBOUND by Warrior Dave Melzer (14) against Wood River Saturday night. The host Granite City quintet won the Southwestern Conference contest 63-52.

2nd Venice Cage Loss to Lincoln Team

The Venice high school basketball team went down to defeat at the hands of Lincoln high school of East St. Louis Friday night for the second time this year, losing 74-61 at Lincoln. The Red Devils had lost on their own court 64-52.

The quarter scores were 19-10, 38-36 and 57-46. Coach Bill Ohlendorf said, "One thing that hurt us is that in the first three minutes of the game we lost Russell Turner with a turned ankle. We don't know how long he is going to be out. He is taking daily whirlpool treatments."

Rebounds, Passes Hurt
"We made a lot of mistakes and only shot 35%. Rebounds are what beat us more than anything else; we couldn't get off very many second shots."

"We also made a lot of bad passes," he noted.

Scoring in the game were Larry Mosby 29, John Gardner 12, Jim Miller seven, Frank Glover six, Fessor Gary five and Tom McIntosh two.

The boys will now compete at the district's Winter Carnival to be held at GCHS in March.

Soccer Schedules To Be Set Tuesday

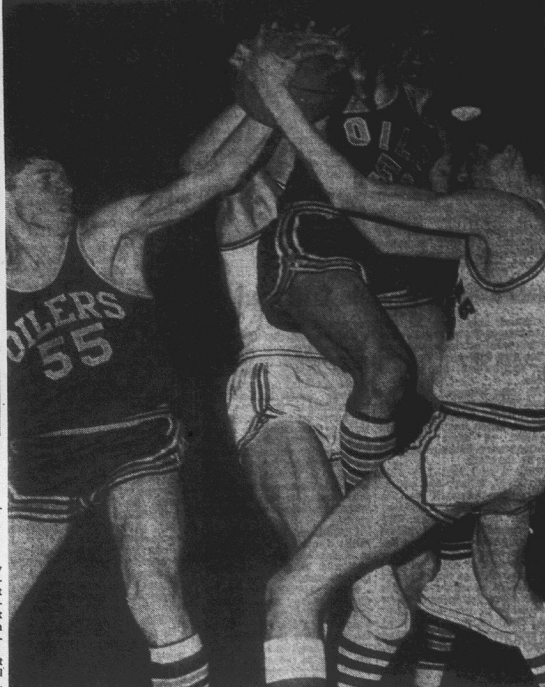

A meeting of managers and coaches of the YMCA Soccer Association will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the YMCA.

Ruben Mendoza, soccer athletic director, said that schedules for this year will be worked out at this time.

Basketball Sophomores

Topple Cahokia 62-48
The sophomore basketball team of Granite City high school won a Thursday night contest against Cahokia 62-48 at the GCHS memorial gym.

Coach Dick Harmon played 14 boys and 10 were able to score. Leading the offense was Jeff Boyles with 12 points. Tim Schwendeman had 11, Steve Harris 10, Dave Evans 10, Ron Simpson six, Gary Johnson four, Jeff Pritchard four, Roger Short two, Mark Rigby two and Gary Jones, one.

FOUR PLAYERS COMPETE for possession of the ball in this action during the GCHS-Wood River game here Saturday night. Jeff Boyles (54) gets two hands on the basketball, and those with one hand on it are Bailey (55) and Brawley of Wood River and an unidentified Warrior.

Frosty Start But Baseball Team Hoping for Hot Streak

Coach Fedora said the club is starting practice early because of the defending Southwestern Conference champion utility man.

Seek Flexible Squad
"We are lucky to have Dochwat on the team. He can be used in almost any position," Fedora said in noting the value of such flexibility.

Junior letterman is Roger Belshe, catcher, and Gary Simpson, shortstop. Others returning are pitchers Jim Parks and Jim Gilmore, who have done much relief work for the Warriors.

More snow, ice and frigid weather looms ahead but Granite City high school Warrior baseball players started 1968 drills last week, working around the practice times for basketball and wrestling in the gymnasium building.

Coach Joe Fedora believes that GCHS can expect a "respectable good season from the boys coming back this year and newcomers." It will be his last season, since he will be moving up to the post of director of athletics in 1969-69.

"For the first time since I have been here we have the No. 1 and No. 2 pitchers from last year returning. This is a boost in itself, combined with the fact that we have several boys who are shaping up to be able to give us help in relief pitching."

"Ron Laws is the biggest promise that I have now for relief. He is putting in a lot of work, and by the time that our 39-game schedule starts he should be in top shape."

"Our returning pitchers from last year are Don Rains, who finished the year undefeated with 10 wins, and Jim Becker, who lost one and won seven. Rains is a senior and Becker is a junior."

Other returning senior lettermen are Charles Fossick, who plays second base, Bob James, first base, Jeff Jones, an outfielder, and Mike Dochwat, a utility man.

Currently, all those from here who participated in the meet are affiliated with the East St. Louis YMCA. During the summer months, they are members of the Paddlers' competitive swim team from Granite City. Many of the local swimmers are expected to compete this weekend in meets at Peoria and Belleville.

Other local swimmers receiving second through fourth place trophies, included Bill Beatty, Karen Reisinger, Mark Buenger and Eric Cunningham. Also competing from Granite City were Jerry and Judy Reisinger and Paddy Jim, Michael, Kathleen and Rosaleen Baggott.

Madison Retains First Place on Win No. 19

The Madison high school Trojan basketball team improved its record to 19-3 and its league mark to 9-1 Friday night at Madison, beating Midwestern Conference foe Bethalto 84-71 and holding on to first place in the conference.

Cahokia is 5-2 after downing Highland 58-46.

Gary Lusk, averaging over 30 points a game, scored 43 on 19 of 28 field goal attempts and five of seven free throws. He also was able to get six rebounds and accounted for six assists.

"Lusk has always led the team in points as well as assists," said Trojan mentor John Logan.

"We were cold and just couldn't get the ball through the net. But we began to warm up in the second quarter and held a 35-28 lead at the half," Logan noted. Third period score was 54-43.

"In the second half we were able to get as far ahead of them as 18 points. It didn't make much difference what kind of defense we played against them the last quarter. They were hitting the basket from all over the floor. We kept them out of the key but they were hot and scored 28 points to our 30 in the last eight minutes."

Also scoring were Tom Weston 12, Titus Shipp six, Dale Clinton three, Jim Scott two, Joe Collins two and Mike Harper, one.

Two teams, Granite City girls captured first place trophies this weekend against strong competition in one of Illinois' top indoor AAU swimming and diving meets which ended yesterday at Quincy.

Gayle Thompson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson, 3805 Wabash avenue, took a first place trophy in open division diving, after scoring 182 points during the "Fourth Annual Invitational Indoor AAU Meet" at the Sheridan Swim Club in Quincy.

Her closest competitor totaled 153 points. Miss Thompson also received a second place award at an AAU meet in Memphis, Tenn., two weeks ago.

Ann Bickhaus, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bickhaus, 2105 Manley avenue, who is rated among the top swimmers in the St. Louis metropolitan area, won a first place trophy in the 100-yard butterfly event at Quincy.

The Coolidge junior high school ninth grader also captured 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th place trophies and ribbons in other swimming events.

A total of 100 events highlighted the three-day meet which attracted nearly 1000 young athletes from all areas of the state.

'Weak' Warriors Win District, Send 11 to Mat Sectional Here

Granite City high school won district wrestling competition ending Saturday at Wood River high school for the 11th straight year. The Warriors have taken the title ever since district tournaments were started.

The Warriors piled up a total of 140 team points and qualified 11 of 12 wrestlers to the Granite City sectional commemorative gymnasium.

The total points made by the Warriors rank second to their record of 142 points in 1960, when they qualified all 12 of their wrestlers for the sectional.

Seven Champions This has been regarded as somewhat of an off-season for the Warriors, partly due to numerous injuries. But they won a undefeated Southwestern Conference championship and, following the district bouts, are in excellent shape to contend for the sectional title.

Seven GCHS entrants captured the championship of their weight divisions — Bob Miller 103 pounds, Ron Hopper 112, Gary O'ford 120, Dempsey Cross 138, Ricky Smith 145, Paul Hoffman 154 and Tim Wallace, 165.

Joining them in the sectional here will be four Warriors who finished second at Wood River by winning every time until the final bout — Leonard Wilson 95, Mike Christopher 127, Tom Niebur 133 and Dan James, heavyweight.

The lone Warrior not advancing to the sectional also distinguished himself, placing third in the 180-pound division. He was Bob Pates, who won all but one of his bouts.

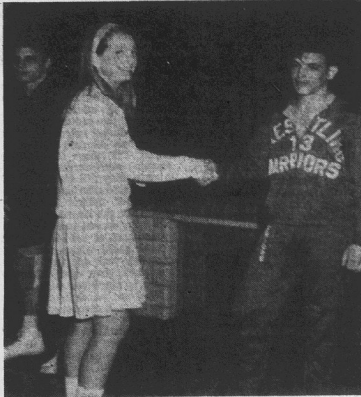

Civic Memorial of Bethalto was second Saturday with 67 points, followed by Roxana with 59, Wood River 43, Southwestern 38, Vandalia 20, Edwardsville 18, Highland four and Alton three.

Regarded As Upset Coach Bill Schmitt said, "I think that we surprised them all when we came out as strong as we did. Bethalto and Roxana especially had their eyes on the title, but our boys went up there to wrestle and did a fine job."

"We were the strongest that we have been all year and presented our best to them. They had heard we had been having our troubles this year, and may have taken us a little too lightly."

One Warrior, Smith, pinned all of his foes—in 2:47, 1:43 and then 3:31 for the championship.

Top Unbeaten Wrestlers Miller won in 1:32 and on 5-1 and 7-3 decisions, defeating 7-3 for the title Roxana's Gary DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP MEDAL is shown being accepted at Wood River Saturday by Dempsey Cross of the Granite City high school wrestling team. Cross, one of seven Warrior champions, won in the 138-pound classification. Presenting the award to him is Wood River cheerleader Sandy Cunningham and at left is Jim Clapsaddle of Wood River, whom Cross beat for the championship.

Bedwell, who was undefeated this season.

Hopper won three decisions, 12-1, 11-7 and 2-0 in that order.

Oxford registered the quick est pin in the tournament in his semifinal bout, winning in 33 seconds. His other wins were 9-0 and then 2-0 over Roxana's undefeated Bob Paterson.

Cross won in 4:38 and 3:15, by 14-2 and then in 4:36 in the finals. Hoffman won in 2:52 and by 11-2 and 5-1. Wallace won 4-0, in 5:05 and by 2-0.

Wilson won in 5:58 and 2:27 and lost 13-4, while Christopher won in 2:57 and 3:25 and then was pinned in 1:48.

Niebur took 2-0 and 4-2 point victories before losing 3-1. James won 4-1 and 1-0 but lost 5-4 in the final ten seconds of his third bout.

Pates won his first bout 6-2, lost 1-0 and then won 2-0.

The GCHS sectional will begin Friday evening.

GCHS Indoor Thinclads Place in Relay Meet

Granite City high school Warriors' indoor track team competed in the St. Louis indoor relay meet at the St. Louis Armory Friday evening and placed seventh out of 20 teams.

Lincoln high school of East St. Louis won the meet with 31½ points winning two events and with ties for first place in two races. Alton was second with 24 points followed by Joliet 19½, East St. Louis 18, Sumner 18, Beaumont 16, Southwest 14, Vashon 12½, Northwest 10, Belleville West 8, O'Fallon Tech 3½, Roosevelt three and Granite City, two.

The point system was five points for first, dropping to one point for fifth.

Warrior coach Jim Morrison said he was well pleased with 'his team's showing. "It is the first time in five years that we have been able to score any points in this running event."

The sophomore relay team placed fifth in the mile relay with a time of 3:59.6. Running for the Warriors were Jim McDuffey, Ken Elliff, Mike Allen and Mark Lakatos. Their time set a new sophomore indoor record at the high school.

In the shotput, unique for this meet, the Warriors picked up another fifth as Bob Barthelemy threw 45 feet, 8½ inches, Dave Salitch 45 feet, 7½ inches and Larry Miller, who is a sophomore, threw 39 feet, seven inches. Scoring was based on the total distance hurled by three boys from each school.

Coach Morrison commented there was an outstanding effort by the sophomore distance medley relay team — Ricky Rose, Ken Elliff, Mike Elliff and Mike Burris. Burris ran the last mile of the race in 4:45 which is another new school record for an indoor mile run.

The Warriors barely missed another point in the high hurdle shuttle relay, placing sixth. Runners were Dave Mullines, Mike Allen, Gary Penrod and John Tyler.

Morrison said, "It is difficult to work out with the limited facilities that we have at our gym. In meets like this we have to compete against teams like Lincoln, East St. Louis, and Alton that are always strong in competition."

"Bob Zaruba did a fine job for his first track meet running in the 880 and the mile relays."

Of the 32-member Warrior squad, 17 were sophomores and seven seniors.

Other school records broken were in the sprint medley with a time of 5:36.3 and in the distance medley with a time of 11:58.1. The old sprint record was 5:41.6 set in 1965 and the old distance record was 12:21.6 set in 1966.

Robertson and Paul Lipinski, also a member of the same GCHS team, are co-captains of the Southeast squad.

Cavanaugh has a record of 17 wins, one tie and one loss for this season. They wrestled in the 130-pound division. It was believed to be the first time that two Warrior wrestlers have met in competition on the college level.

State Pollution Control Bond Vote Meeting Thursday

A public meeting to discuss air and water pollution and the related $1 billion bond issue to be voted on in November will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Fischer restaurant, Belleville.

"I don't think most people realize the air and water pollution problems we face right here in our own area," explained Robert Gaiswinkler, regional chairman of the Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water Committee.

"We've called this meeting to inform residents of these problems and to explain the bond issue referendum which will help provide funds to overcome some of the deficiencies in our natural resources," Gaiswinkler said. "We urge all voters to attend this meeting and learn more about the issues involved and the importance of the bond proposal."

The referendum, entitled the Illinois Resource Development Bond Issue, is the first comprehensive statewide attempt to manage Illinois' water, air and pollution. If approved by the voters in November, the state for the next 12 years, and will provide a foundation for meeting the needs over the next 50 years.

This region includes the following counties: Calhoun, Jersey, Madison, Bond, Montgomery, Fayette, St. Clair, Clinton, Marion, Washington and Monroe.

Madison School Board Contest Developing

A spirited contest between the Madison city hall organization and leaders of white and Negro groups for two school board posts open to election this year in Madison school District 12 was developing today amid stepped-up preparations for the 1968 school elections in three Quad-City area districts.

School elections will be held this year April 13. Granite City school District 9 will elect three board members to regular three-year terms and one member to serve one remaining year of an unexpired term.

The Madison school district, where the most heated contest in the area is indicated, will elect two board members to regular terms. Venice District 3 will elect three members to regular three-year terms, and possibly another member to fill out the two-year unexpired term of the late John Gonterman, who died last week.

With the school elections less than two months away, the question of whether a board member to fill the vacancy created by Gonterman's death will be appointed or elected still is unanswered. John Pier, superintendent of schools at Venice, said he plans to take up the matter with school district attorney Larry Hartman this week.

Petitions in Circulation

Most incumbent board members whose terms expire this year already are circulating petitions of candidacy for reelection, while two candidates new to area politics have announced their entry into the Madison school race. Both of them are backed by groups involved last November in protesting the school board's handling of racial difficulties at the Madison high school.

One of them is Thomas Watson, a member of a white parents committee that spearheaded protests of the Madison school board's handling of racial strife last November. At that time Negro students boycotted classes in the high school in a dispute over demands for greater Negro participation in athletic and extra-curricular activities at the school.

When the Negro students returned to class, Watson and his group supported a boycott by white students in protest of the school board's acquiescence to the Negro demands. Both the Negro and white representations said in November they planned action to change the makeup of the school board. In several public meetings, Negro leaders protested the lack of Negro representation on the Madison school board.

Backed by NAACP

The other announced candidate in Madison is Rev. J. C. Calmes, pastor of Friendship Baptist church, who has been endorsed by the Madison chapter of the NAACP. Mrs. Thomas Weston, president of the chapter and leader of the Negro school protests in November, said the NAACP has held out endorsement of a second candidate with the hope that an inter-racial reform slate might develop. She said, however, that she had not been approached by leaders of the white group and that it is possible "we (the NAACP) will endorse a second candidate from our group."

Watson said there have been recent conversations about forming an inter-racial slate, but that the matter was discussed during events of last November. He said that he believed "if they (the Negro leaders) are interested in such a slate, they will let us know."

Watson said also that it is possible that neither the white group nor the Negro group will put up a second candidate.

Members of the Madison school board whose terms expire this year are Oel M. Blumensack, now completing 17 years on the board, and Frank L. Derner, an eight-year board member. Blumensack is now president of the board.

Incumbents Seek Re-Election

Both have obtained petitions from the superintendent's office and will seek re-election with support of the city hall organization. In Granite City District 9, board terms expiring this year are those of George Moore, sr., an urban member; Royce Timmons, a rural member; and Donald Stucke, an urban member serving by appointment. In addition, Granite City district voters will elect another member for a one-year unexpired term. That membership now is held by Arthur Metcalf by appointment.

School election laws provide that when a term has one year or more remaining it must be filled in the election immediately following creation of the vacancy, although the interim period may be filled by an appointee.

Venice Candidates

Moore, Stucke and Metcalf have obtained nominating petitions. Timmons has not yet indicated his plans.

Regular board memberships open to election this year in Venice District 3 are those of Leo Davinroy, Elmer Taylor and Jack Tolliver. Davinroy, Taylor and Roy Musick were elected to the three posts in 1965, but Musick resigned last year. Tolliver, who also is city engineer at Venice, was appointed to fill out the remainder of Musick's term.

All three incumbent members have obtained and are circulating nominating petitions.

Filing period for the school elections will open Wednesday, Feb. 28. Candidates may file nominating petitions through March 23, and March 26 will be the final date for withdrawal.

Publication of all notices of election must be made not later than April 3, the same date on which printed ballots must be available for inspection.

April 8 is the last day to apply by mail for an absentee ballot and April 10 will be the final date for applying in person for an absentee ballot.

MORE ABOUT Levee District

district's plan to go before the legislature for authority to issue bonds without referendum vote is due to be defeated.

On the other hand, Tolar said, the need for funds to rehabilitate the district's drainage canals, to achieve pumping station modernization ordered by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, and to finance needed new projects, has become desperate. Recent efforts by levee district trustees to secure federal funds from various agencies to finance improvement work thus far have been unsuccessful.

Would Lose Grants
Tolar pointed out that unless the levee district is successful in raising its matching share for a hillside drainage project to facilitate interior drainage flow into the Mississippi in periods of heavy rainfall, the district stands to lose about $6 millions in federal funds that already have been allotted for the project. The district needs the $3.2 million for this project alone, but that amount would result in a hillside drainage project of more than $9 million, Tolar said.

The levee district now has additional bond power of approximately $14 millions over the total of outstanding bonds, which eliminates any problem of bonding power limitations in event legislation can be obtained, according to Tolar. This results from 1965 legislative action increasing bond debt limitations from 2.5% of the assessed valuation to 5% of the assessment, Tolar said.

In a hillside drainage report issued in March last year by David Johnson, consulting engineer for the levee district, Johnson specifically listed the district's total assessed valuation at $38,824,542 and said, also specifically, that the "present bonding power of the levee district equals 2.5% of the total assessed valuation."

On 2.5% Basis
The report then said this gave the district bonding power of $13,170,613.

Johnson's report stated further that outstanding bonds of the levee district as of Dec. 31, 1966, amounted to $10,238,000, which left the district with remaining bonding power of $2,932,613. Payments made during 1967, however, would reduce outstanding bonds to $9,463,000 as of Dec. 31, 1967, and give the levee district a bonding power of $3,707,613.

Tolar said that dredging of drainage canals, replacement of electrical systems in pumping stations, repair of water intake tunnels under the river-front levees and "a lot of other work" has confronted the levee district with more than $1.5 million in work to be done, but no money with which to finance it.

Research, Training Grants At SIU Total $1,206,050

Dollar volume of externally sponsored research and training grants at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus during the last six months of 1967 reached a total of $1,206,050, John G. Gallaher, coordinator for the Office of Research and Projects, reports.

The total includes five projects each for the Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, and four each for the Education Division and the Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs offices. The Department of Nursing and the Humanities Division each had two projects.

An additional $37,814 of university funds was allocated to 23 special faculty research projects during the six-month period.

The Southwestern campus is relatively new and for that reason research volume is not as high as at the Carbondale campus; however it is growing, Gallaher said.

Firemen were called at 1:45 p.m. Saturday to a grass fire in the Terminal Railroad yards; at 2:18 p.m. to 1019 Douglas street where a shed caught fire and there was no loss; at 5:55 p.m. Saturday to Lee Park for a grass fire.

On Sunday firemen were called to two grass fires at the same time, 1:35 p.m. One was at Hampden street and the railroad tracks, and the other in Lee Park.

Freight Tonnage at Locks Now in Seasonal Decline

January freight tonnage passing through the Chain of Rocks canal locks totaled 2,388,510 tons, a drop of 1,173,330 tons below December shipments, according to a report by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers which operates the locks. The decrease is seasonal, it was noted.

Shipments included 1,037,169 tons of freight moving upriver and 1,351,350 tons moving downriver. The total was 142,548 tons less than total shipments of 2,541,650 tons moving through the locks in January 1967.

A total of 3285 vessels passed through the locks during January, compared to 4960 in December and 3775 in January a year ago. Their movement through the locks required 673 lockages, compared to 839 in December and 786.

Craft moving through the locks last month included 2564 commercial barges and 12 government barges, 696 commercial towboats and ten government towboats. Other vessels included one small craft, two small government boats and three U. S. patrol boats.

Freight shipments passing through the canal during January included: petroleum products, 318,800 tons upriver and 209,350 tons down river; grain, 33,150 tons up and 1,017,800 tons down; coal, 185,100 up and none down; cement, sand and gravel, none up and 8700 down; sulphur, 21,700 up and none down; miscellaneous commodities, 265,350 up and 25,600 down; iron and steel products.

Year-Round School Operation Offers Benefits to Many, Tax Savings to All

About 15 years ago the Press-Record, along with a number of the nation's leading educators, urged year-round operation of elementary and secondary public schools. At the time it was estimated this would save taxpayers $2 billion; today the saving probably would be twice that amount.

It is disappointing to note that the Granite City school district—once again—apparently is placing more emphasis on building new schools (about $3.5 million worth) than in trying to make year-round utilization of existing structures. Admittedly, this would require a change in thinking from past traditions, as well as some "missionary" work with other school districts and the Illinois legislature. But there is much to be gained, not only for taxpayers already struggling under a heavy burden, but also for the community at large.

Some of these benefits, achieved at a minimal cost for air-conditioning, could be:

- Ability to educate 25% to 33% (3,500 to 4,600) additional students in present school buildings.

Full-time employment, with increased earnings, for teachers and certain other employee groups. Three nearby universities offer ample opportunity for faculty members to continue their education at evening classes or, by arrangement, through leave of absence equivalent to the summer recess.

Staggered classes, on a nine months schedule, would permit families to take winter, spring and fall vacations, as well as during the summer.

Employment opportunities for students seeking to earn money for college would be much greater, with staggered quarterly vacations than at present, limited as they now are to the summer months.

The impact of vacation absenteeism on business and industry generally would be much less and would tend to build-in greater stability of employment and production.

All of these advantages would not come easily, but worthwhile things rarely do. And, as it is nothing sacrosanct about operating schools only nine months on a regular basis; no more than the five or six months period they were open.

The Granite City school district may need more school buildings, or new ones to replace some that have become expensively obsolete, but let's really try to make full use of those we have first.

APPRECIATES MAIL TO NAVY VESSES AT KOREA

To the Editor:
This letter is to thank you for your column for the purpose of publishing servicemen's addresses.

I personally received many letters from people in the local area as well as people from Missouri, and it is very encouraging card from Lazenby Photographers.

It means a lot to know that strangers care enough to take a spare minute to write a few words to someone in the service to help cheer them up and wish them good will.

I am now aboard the U.S.S. Enterprise and my address is: Lloyd Summers ATR 3 B30 91 58 RVAN-1 Recon P.O. San Francisco, Calif. 94101.

The Enterprise is at present standing by off the coast of Korea waiting for the outcome of the Pueblo incident; then we're supposed to head to Vietnam. I believe there are other men from Granite City aboard the Enterprise.

Again I want to thank you for your efforts in behalf of servicemen.

CARDS, PRAYER AIDING BADLY BURNED BOY
To the Editor:

I am the mother of Richard Dady, the 12-year-old boy who was so badly burned Jan. 29. I would like to express my deep appreciation to all the wonderful people in this town.

There are so many cards, letters, flowers and gifts that I would take a whole page to thank everyone. Just to mention a few:

St. Joseph's school children sent a packet of cards they had made. There were tears in Ricky's eyes when his father

Voters Capable of Giving New Direction To Progress of Madison School District

Discussion of the feasibility of a formal or informal coalition of groups on opposite sides of this school year's disension in Madison focuses extra interest on the upcoming election for two positions on the board of education. A coalition may not be easy to achieve between two groups displeased—for differing reasons—with school policies but it would offer two important benefits:

It is probably the only way that a change in board membership could be accomplished. Incumbents would be much more vulnerable if opposed by a single two-man ticket, than if there were three two-candidate slates. This advantage also might be obtainable if white and Negro factions backed single candidates and the two then attracted joint support in the voting booths.

With candidates seeking voter support from every neighborhood in the district, their emphasis could move wholesomely from divisive demands and attitudes to mutual exploration of improvements of value to all students.

Voters have the power to reduce political dominance in school matters and to inject a fresh and constructive element into decisions on education. But it is likely that they can prevail only if they use their power wisely, not wastefully.

Aid to Crippled a Lasting Memorial to Walter A. Reese

Restoration of useful and happy lives to more than 1000 children and adults afflicted by crippling conditions, illnesses and birth defects was a mammoth accomplishment by a giant of a man—Walter A. Reese.

For three decades he spearheaded the Elks Lodge 1063 program aiding handicapped persons unable to afford the often extensive and costly surgery and treatment required to rehabilitate them. So skillfully and thoroughly did he administer it that no public fund solicitation ever became necessary and no one in need ever had to be turned away.

A world war I veteran, Mr. Reese shortly after that war founded the first of what has become—through his tireless, around-the-clock efforts—a network of ten drug stores in Illinois and Missouri. He was active in many service organizations and in 1959 he and the Elks received the Civic Achievement Award.

His long and busy life has ended but his business and his charitable activities will live on as will Quad-City's memories of a man whose pioneering vitality and ability contributed so much to the growth and welfare of this community and its citizens.

County Entering Recreation Field

Formation of a Parks and Recreation Committee by the Madison County Board of Supervisors is a development that could have major significance. Federal funds are to be sought and, upon conclusion of the Vietnam war, could be substantial. No county tax expenditures are contemplated.

Increasing attention to "open space" and recreational needs is being given by the U.S. and by Illinois, which is submitting a $1 billion outdoor recreation and anti-pollution bond issue to voters in November.

Entrance by county government into this field may help break the logjam that has delayed development of Horseshoe Lake and other potential facilities.

Seeing ourselves as others see us wouldn't do any good. We wouldn't believe it.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed if anonymity is desired. Letters of less than 250 words will be given preference. All letters are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good faith will be rejected or edited.

I took turns reading them to him. A group of children from Coolidge Junior High School took a collection for a miniphotograph and radio, records, initialing and identification bracelets.

Ladies who work with my sister sent him a transistor radio. The number of cards has been tremendous. The nurses said they had never seen so much attention given to one patient.

The nursing staff and I sincerely believe that prayer saved his life. He is holding his own, which is all I can say at this time. His bravery is a wonder to everyone. The nurses say he's the best patient they have ever had.

All who know him, know what a terrible thing it is for him to be so helpless. He cannot move very much. He must be held a little, and just recently has been lifting his arms. Ricky has always been active in sports of all kinds, never once to be idle. I am not forgetting the quick and efficient way the ambulance staff, police and fire department handled everything. Then, afterwards, their concern and help. We have city department to be thankful for and proud of.

In these troubled days you sometimes forget that people are good. I will never forget it again. There is no way to say thank and express what I feel. I can only say, God bless all of you.

Why U. S. Loses In The Olympics

(The Sporting News)
America owes a debt of gratitude to Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, for his great contributions to amateur athletics, but we believe the 80-year-old official has outlived his times.

A millionaire, Brundage obviously thinks that nothing has changed in sports since 1776 B.C., the date of the first Olympiad.

John Kieran and Arthur Daley in their book, "The Story of the Olympic Games," relate:

"At the beginning and for some centuries thereafter the games—from a sporting standpoint—were strictly amateur. The prizes were wreaths."

"The expense incident to competing were borne by the competitor or his family."

"A certain amount of prize money and a definite amount of money were needed to support the athlete through the long period of training and the subsequent trip to and from the games."

"This somewhat narrowed the competitive field of early days to those who could spare the time and who had—or whose family had—the money."

Handicap to U. S. Team
Brundage's views on eligibility are so restricted that the Olympics still would be limited to the monied, leisure class, if he has his way.

He even goes to the extreme of contending that an athlete who receives a college grant-in-aid is just as much a professional as a man who takes money openly for his services.

Unfortunately, the Olympics no longer are the "courtous and peaceful contests" envisioned by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, father of the modern games. Now they have become a matter of international prestige.

The Soviet Union's state sponsorship of its Olympic teams puts the U. S. at a tremendous disadvantage as it is, without tying ourselves down to Brundage's archaic ideas.

Can you imagine the kind of track and field team we could send to Mexico City if we barred all athletes who are or had been on college scholarships?

When Baron de Coubertin began his work to revive the Olympics, he wrote a letter to athletic organizations all over the world.

Observes Letter of Law
The letter appears in Bill Henry's "History of the Olympic Games." We quote from it:

"As a protection against the lure of money and professionalism, the amateurs have drawn up complicated rules full of compromise and contradictions."

Brundage has worked too long and too hard to be "thrown out" but we believe that he ought to be retired with all the honors due a patriarch of another era.

Compound Interest Builds Nest Egg

(By THOMAS E. O'HARA, Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs)

Q. I have about $10,000 saved in bonds and my credit union. I plan to draw out $215 a month, or $2580 a year, until the savings are exhausted.

A. You think there would be a better way to invest while taking out $2580 a year? Do you really know what your credit union is paying in interest, but you can get 5% or more in good municipal bonds or simply in savings certificates at your bank. If your savings bonds and credit union don't equal this, then I suggest you consider switching your investment program.

Keep in mind that compound interest can do a lot for you. I'd like to cite a chart used by the National Association of Investment Clubs to point out how a wise investment program can provide additional retirement funds.

The chart shows that if you save $1200 a year from age 40 through age 59, with interest compounded annually at 4%, you will have $37,161 by the time you are 60.

At this point you can start withdrawing $1800 a year for the next 20 years, or you can put in—and still have $27,822 left when you reach the age of 80.

That is supposing you put the money you saved in a bond or a bank savings account. However, if you were to buy good growth stocks at a reasonable price and get appreciation in both price and dividends, your rate of return could be even higher—and give you a still greater income eventually.

Liquidity Issue
Q. A friend says, "Don't put your money in savings and loan because they're not safe. They aren't liquid enough." What does he mean? I can see no danger in them.

A. Your savings and loan deposits are, of course, protected by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, a federal agency against loss up to $15,000. In addition, real estate investments held by savings and loan associations have a tendency to face the same problems a year or two ago seem to have improved in quality in recent months.

So, you should have no concern about their safety as long as you have another part of your question had to do with inflation. I will say that I think this is a very serious threat to the value of your dollar, and that you might better cope with it by investing a part of your funds in stocks, or convertible bonds.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly magazine, "Better Investing," and one of the nation's recognized authorities, will answer as many as possible in his column. Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing." Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1058, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

Woman Seeks Aid to Fight St. Louis Tow-Away System

A Granite City woman whose car was towed away from a parking meter in St. Louis is suing in a cost of $15.00 for its recovery is hoping she will be joined by others in fighting the procedures of the St. Louis police department and the Metro-politan Towing Co.

Mrs. Memmell Lindsey, 4025 Rode avenue, told the Press-Record she had gone to St. Louis Thursday to get at $29 unemployment check and a d parked her car in the 500 block of Delmar avenue, placing a coin in the meter. When she returned 10 minutes later, the car was gone.

Mrs. Lindsey said she failed to notice the 7 to 9 a.m. parking sign.

"That's not so bad," she said about the parking violation, "but when I went to the lot to recover my car they told me I owed a $12.00 towing charge, and not only that, they had removed a coil wire from my car so I couldn't get it."

"The man there told me it would do no good to protest. It seems that's stealing when they remove a part from your car." She went to police, but they told her she would have to pay the tow bill.

"When I did, the man put the part back and let me have my car. I'm sure other persons here have had same experience, and it doesn't seem right. I hope they will join me in trying to take legal action."

Mrs. Lindsey had been working for a St. Louis photo firm.

Price Introduces Bill to Aid Federal Workers

Rep. Melvin Price (D), East St. Louis, introduced legislation last week to create an effective labor management program in the federal government.

Rep. Price's bill, The Federal Employees' Labor-Management Act, would assist the rights of employees of the federal government to organize and to present and settle grievances in an orderly and speedy manner.

Rep. Price announced that he was introducing his bill after a long consultation with labor representatives of employee groups and labor law specialists in Washington.

The proposal provides for the development of three types of employee organizations and outlines the function of each. It authorizes the Secretary of Labor to create a code of fair labor standards for the federal government.

The bill would permit mediation by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. It also creates a government labor-management relationship panel with authority to adjudicate disputes which cannot be settled by mediation.

The decisions of the panel would be binding on the government agency, the employee organization, and the individual employee involved in the dispute.

The employee would have the right to represent himself in the grievance process. He would also have the right to call witnesses on his own behalf and the right to receive pay during the grievance procedure.

Price said the grievance is not solved through ordinary channels, it would permit arbitration by a three member board. "The program for compulsory arbitration in this bill left some doubt in my mind since I oppose compulsory arbitration in the workplace because it is working man usually comes out on the short end," he said.

"I have been assured by Labor Law Specialists that the compulsory arbitration panel will be used only to the settlement of grievances and in no way involve the question of pay."

Price called for "objective consideration" and "early passage of his bill which has been referred to the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service.

GCMS Band to Present Third Concert Thursday

Granite City High School Band will present its third concert of the winter-spring series at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. Admission is by season ticket, or single performance seats may be purchased at the door.

Directed by Louis E. Meek, conductor, and Joseph Owens, assistant conductor, the 100-member concert group will feature a program of varied selections, including a special segment commemorating the Illinois Sesqui-centennial Year.

Spotlighted will be the "Illinois March," by Dr. R. H. Wood, and "Spoon River" by Gracey Grainger, arranged by Glenn Clifton Balmun.

Explaining inclusion of the latter selection, Thursday night concert, Meek pointed out that a Captain Charles H. Robinson heard a tune called "Spoon River" played by a rustic fiddler during a country dance at Bradford, Ill., in 1857.

Fifty-seven years later when "Spoon River Anthology" appeared, Captain Robinson, then nearly 90 years old, was struck by the similarity of the two titles — that of the old tune and of the poem-book, and sent the "Spoon River" tune to Meek, who passed it on to Grainger.

Described as archaic in character, typically American, yet akin to certain Scottish and English dance-tunes, the "Spoon River" setting aims at preserving a pioneer blend of lonesome wistfulness and sturdy persistence, Meek explains. The work was studied in 1919 and completed in 1929 and bears the dedication — "For Edgar Lee Masters, poet of pioneers."

Arranged by E. E. Bagley, "Morning, Noon and Night," by F. Von Suppe, arranged by Henry Fillmore; "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral from Lohengrin," by Richard Wagner; "Serenade," by Leroy Anderson; "The Gladiator," by John Philip Sousa; "I'll See You Again," by Noel Coward.

2 Madison Police Officers, 2 Men Injured in Fight

Two Madison police officers and two men whom they sought to arrest were injured last night in a fight that developed when the officers asked a party of five brothers to leave a Madison tavern in which they had been creating a disturbance.

Madison police booked three of the brothers after the fight ended. They are Jerry Hutchinson, 21, of 76 Garcesch Avenue, and Charles Hutchinson, 26, of 508 Madison street, who were charged with disorderly conduct, disobeying a police officer, resisting arrest and destruction of property.

Gary and Charles Hutchinson were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of head lacerations. Madison Officer William Papp suffered an injury to the right eye and a laceration of the left hand, and Officer Edward Zabolla suffered an injury to the right hand. The three brothers were released on a notice to appear for hearing in magistrate court March 6.

Police said the disturbance started at Margo's tavern, 1663 Market street, when several of the brothers became abusive to a barmaid who had requested them to stop buying beer and serving it to a younger brother, who is 19 years of age. The barmaid asked the men to leave, but they refused and began calling her names, police reported.

The barmaid called Madison police who also asked the men to leave. Several of the brothers became abusive to the officers and one of them struck Papp. In the fight, several men broke glasses, overturned tables and chairs and caused other damage. Venues police were called to assist Madison police in making the arrests.

Police said the younger brother, named another brother, William Hutchinson, did not participate in the fight and was not arrested.

Tax Levy for Levee District Up $30,000

A tax levy of $861,955 for the 1968 general fund of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district—an increase of $30,000 over the 1967 levy—was adopted by the levee board of trustees in a special meeting Friday.

The levy is $180,000 less than the general fund budget and appropriation of $1,141,955 worth of general fund cost items approved by the board on Feb. 1.

The board is not required to adopt a separate levy for taxes to pay bond principal and interest. Taxes for bond purposes are automatically levied by the county clerk's offices of both counties under the original bond ordinances adopted by the levee district at the time the bonds were issued.

Includes Collection Deficit
The new tax levy calls for extension of taxes to finance general fund items, totaling $856,955, Municipal Retirement Fund costs of $45,000 and a deficiency in the collection of taxes for bond payments in 1964 amounting to $60,000—for the total of $961,955.

A year ago the board adopted a tax levy for $811,955 for general fund items, $60,000 for the Municipal Retirement Fund and $60,000 in a bond deficiency for a total of $931,955.

Much of the increase was in levy for payment of project costs which total $334,955 in the 1968 levy, compared to $316,730 levied for 1967.

The levy for administration purposes rose $6750 to a 1968 total of $132,720. The levy last year totaled $126,000 for administration purposes, including $48,000 in salaries. The 1968 total of $132,720 includes $52,000 for salaries and thus accounts for about 66% of the administration increase.

Maintenance Cost Up
General maintenance costs also are up slightly in the 1968 levy—for a total of $288,200, compared to $279,070 last year.

The 1968 levy for engineering costs totals $43,380. Last year this figure was $37,380. Tax levy for operation of the levee district police department this year is $38,120, compared to $32,710 last year.

Levee trustees also approved Friday a resolution providing for issuance of up to $550,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants during the year. The warrants will be issued as funds are required for operational purposes, according to Chief Clerk Ben Campbell.

The resolution provided that all of the warrants will be sold to the Bank of Cahokia. Warrant No. 1 will be in the denomination of $100,000. Nine additional warrants of $50,000 each were authorized.

Pickup Truck Struck

The left side of a pickup truck driven by Renault Williams, 4945 Rode avenue, was struck by a hit-and-run driver at 7:50 p.m. Thursday at 26th street and Delmar avenue. Williams said he gave chase but was unable to get close enough to get the license number.

Venice Firemen Called 3 Times in 4 Hours

Three fire alarms within four hours were received by the Venice fire department Friday—all of them grass fires in which damage was reported. At 1:45 a.m. firemen were called to the Venice city dog pound where a grass fire resulted from unknown causes, and at 3:40 p.m. were called to a grass fire on South Fourth street around the Wiggins Highline, where grass was burning along Route 3.

Appellate Court Stays Air Control Injunction Writ

A temporary injunction that prevented the Illinois State Air Pollution Board from enforcing state air pollution control laws was stayed by the 4th district Appellate Court at Springfield Friday.

The three-judge court acted on a petition of Illinois Attorney General William G. Clark, who said after the hearing, E. that "the control board is back in business."

The injunction was granted to members of the Illinois Auto Salvage Dealers Association by Circuit Judge Creel Douglas at Springfield last week on the dealers' plea that enforcement of air pollution control laws damaged their business. Old cars are barred out by dealers to salvage the metal.

Clark argued before the appellate judges that the case "involves the health of the people of Illinois versus the financial benefit of some salvage dealers."

Joseph W. Maddox, attorney for the dealers, said he would consult with the association before determining further action.

Driver Loses License, Seven More Suspended

The driver's license of Edgar T. Snipes, 1645 Moro avenue, was revoked, and those of seven other area motorists were suspended by Secretary of State Paul Powell, all because of three violations, it was announced today. Suspensions were against:

Robert A. Ban, 2510 Hodges avenue; Sidney F. Clymer, 1734 Poplar street; William J. Conner, 1735 Grand avenue; Larry E. Conner, 3022 Circle drive; James O. Gibbs, 135 Garceschewski; James Madison; James Horz, 1846 Poplar street; and James R. Lipchick, 3337 Village lane. A probationary permit was issued to Clymer.

Powell's office announced Saturday that it had rescinded the revocation of the license of Jackie A. Odom, 3009 Marshall avenue, following a report from the circuit court in Granite City that a not guilty finding had occurred instead of a guilty finding.

NAACP Week Opens; Membership Drive

Lack Chairman for GC

'Heart Sunday' Drive

"After many attempts to secure a Heart Sunday chairman for Granite City, the fund-raising advisory committee has about abandoned all efforts for Heart Sunday Feb. 25," was told today by Frank D. Finlay, Heart Association field director.

"Many have been interviewed with respect to taking on the volunteer job, but apparently due to pressure from other activities and the grind of daily jobs it appears that it will be impossible to secure an over-all city chairman.

"A great deal of interest has been expressed by an active sorority in the Granite City area under the presidency of Mrs. Joyce Albers, but active as this group is, enough workers cannot be recruited by Feb. 25 unless some prominent businessmen and women can be enlisted in the next day or two.

"The city of Madison is being canvassed under the chairmanship of Claude Echols. Venice is being looked after by Walter "Buck" Simmons. These were the chairmen last year for the businesses.

"Under the heart program in Granite City, there is a full-scale rheumatic fever program in the public and parochial schools, at no cost to these schools.

"Since the first Heart Fund campaign 20 years ago, more than 140 million heart dollars have been expended to date for research in the field of cardiovascular diseases, the country's greatest killer.

"In addition, 1500 medical scientists are now working in clinics and laboratories throughout the country on research projects financed by the American Heart Association and its affiliates. Jury Favors Defendant

Over Death of GC Boy

A trial jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, John F. Stanfill of Granite City, last week in circuit court at Edwardsville over a fatal traffic accident on July 15, 1955, in which Paul Ashley Pollette, 14, of 2912 Dogwood drive, was killed.

The boy was struck by an auto driven by Stanfill while riding his bicycle across the street at 1509 Twenty-third street and died the following July 20 at St. Louis Children's Hospital. The plaintiff was

Mrs. Hugh Pollette, the boy's mother, administrator of his estate.

The suit originally sought $150,000, but the amount was reduced to $30,000 by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr, which at the time was the limit for a "wrongful death." The Pollette attorney then argued for $85,000.

Federal Data Sought for Reopening Airport

An inquiry for information on procedures necessary to reactivate Lakeside Airport near Homewood Lake has been referred to the chief of the Federal Aviation Administration in Chicago.

The data is being sought by William F. Hoelscher, general manager and secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities, who set forth background information on the now defunct airport and an outline of development of other airports in the two-state area.

The inquiry was made last week with William H. Quinn, chief of the Federal Aviation Administration, Chicago Area office, Des Plaines, Ill. Hoelscher said a reply is expected within a few days.

Text of the inquiry follows: "This letter is a request for information as to the procedures required to reactivate Lakeside Airport. It will be appreciated if you will pass this letter on to those members of your staff most immediately concerned."

"This Association represents all of the industrial manufacturers of the Quad-Cities, namely, Granite City, Madison, and Venice, Ill. This request for information is made both on behalf of this association and in my private capacity as chairman of the Granite City Plant Commission and a private pilot."

Needed for Area. "We have felt for sometime that the needs of our industries and our prospects for future industrial development required the establishment of a general aviation airport a convenient distance from the Quad-Cities. Our investigations revealed that while Civic Memorial Airport at Alton was entirely adequate, its distance from the Quad-Cities was such as to make our industries prefer the use of Lambert Field in St. Louis."

While we were pleased to see the Bi-State Development Agency acquire Parks Airport in East St. Louis, similarly, current highway network makes that airport an inconvenient distance from the Quad-Cities as compared with the fully developed facilities at Lambert Field. St. Louis Downtown Airport on Collinsville road, between Collinsville and East St. Louis, is convenient in distance but is not adequate in facilities, as I am sure you know, and has been purchased by the state of Illinois Department of Conservation, which intends to close the airport within the next five years.

"Postaire Aviation established its grass strip off Highway 270 and although relatively convenient to the Quad-Cities, the airport remains totally undeveloped and under water during a great portion of the year. The southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University has plans for an airport at the foot of the bluffs north of Highway 270, which again would be relatively convenient, but I am sure is intended as the University training installation which will be worked in conjunction with their airport facilities in Carbondale."

"I took note of Lakeside Airport sometime ago but have until recently been unable to expect too much from this site as the land was held for more than two years in probate. "Lakeside Airport recently became available, and its some 150 acres have been purchased by Mr. William Nichols of the Nichols and Twine Co. Mr. Nichols has indicated a willingness to sell the land to any local agency who would develop an airport facility. It is my understanding that there is sufficient land on the 150 acre site for a 4000 foot strip and additional land lies to the south, with only a minor township road intervening, which could be purchased to allow the development of a strip of any length."

"At the same time that the Lakeside Airport property became available, the St. Louis Municipal Airport Commission rejuvenated a proposal to use their long lying riverfront land at Columbia Bottoms in North St. Louis for a general aviation 3800 foot landing strip. The project is being reviewed by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, whose technical executive advisory committee is reviewing the proposal by a vote of 12-to-1. The Gateway Council itself approved the proposal by a vote of 5-to-4.

"From the industrial standpoint, all of our members are national corporations, and the majority have head offices in cities in distant states. Most use business aircraft to some extent, and all would welcome a general aviation airport near the Quad-City area. There is also strong feeling that federal money spent to develop Columbia Bottoms, both as an airport and with the necessary floodwall protection, could be an unwise investment of public funds as compared with the development of a site such as the old Lakeside Airport property."

"In a report by the Arthur D. Little, Inc. company in 1959, the feasibility of using Columbia Bottoms for an industrial park was rejected for reasons too numerous to mention here. Comparing Columbia Bottoms to Lakeside's area, it is important to note that business and industrial users can reach Lakeside from downtown St. Louis on Highway 66 far more rapidly than they can reach Columbia Bottoms.

Development Possibilities. "We have investigated numerous governmental sponsors for development of this airport. It can be done under Illinois law by either Madison county or any of its municipalities or by a special district organized for that purpose. The Bi-State Development Agency has indicated interest and a metropolitan areawide airport commission for the entire St. Louis area is under study. Private industry is interested in constructing hangar buildings and another interested in providing the operations and services have offered their support."

The last operator of Lakeside was Edward Shaffer of Collinsville. It is not known whether the Lakeside license has been surrendered and the airport officially abandoned or whether it is merely "closed." In reopening the airport, we feel it is essential to ascertain whether a fully instrumented landing approach system can be qualified in the area at some time in the future in order that the site might meet the full potential of our local needs. We

2 Local Mid-Term Grads at ISU, Normal

A total of 390 students, an increase of 89 over a year ago, have completed degree requirements at Illinois State University, Normal, with the close of the first semester. Of that number, two were graduates, 51 master's and 337 bachelor's. The doctoral total is the same as a year ago, while there are 18 more master's recipients and 71 more bachelor's.

Mid-year graduates of Illinois State have the option of participating in the June commencement ceremony. Those from the Quad-Cities are Cheryl Morger, 2906 Washington avenue, BA in Spanish; and Lynne Paulett, 2846 Grand avenue, BS in special education.

Individual's Potential Outlined for Optimists

The average person uses only 10% of his potential to perform his daily activities. In individual's potential, in development involve improving one's knowledge, skills and attitude.

Schiff noted that knowledge is gained by the individual himself, however, he commented, "the opportunity exists whereby improvement can be achieved in skill and attitude, both of paramount importance in development of one's personal potential."

Stressing the effectiveness of combining skill, knowledge and attitude to solve a seemingly difficult, but simple problem, Schiff presented a demonstration which involved piercing a frozen, uncooked potato with a flexible drinking straw. Only one out of three Optimist members who attempted the feat was able to repeat the trick.

Primary Procedures The technical counselor said the Dale Carnegie technique involves three primary procedures—describing how personal potential may be developed; demonstrating that this is possible; and the practical application of knowledge gained through the course in everyday life.

Dr. Raymond E. Troyer, Optimist president, introduced Barry Loman, who reported that proceeds derived from the annual Christmas tree sales, a project jointly sponsored by the Granite City and Twilight Optimist clubs, netted a profit of $2400. The funds which are divided equally by the two service groups are earmarked for youth betterment projects.

The Granite City Optimists will meet this Thursday for a noon luncheon and program at the Wilson Park ice skating center, it was announced. Park Supt. Harold Brown will have charge of the program.

Local SIU-SW Singers To be on Programs

Ray Voorhees, 3246 Wilshire drive, and Robert Wagner, 1629 Mitchell avenue, both of Granite City, are members of the 16-voice Madrigal Singers of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, who will be touring St. Louis area high schools of Kirkwood, Clayton and Bayless Tuesday.

Chosen by audition from the Concert Chorale, Madrigal repertoire includes music from the 16th Century and some contemporary pieces.

Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, assistant professor of music at SIU-SW, the group will present its Winter Concert Friday, Feb. 23, in the Lovejoy Library auditorium at the 16th Century and some contemporary pieces. The concert is open to the public free of charge.

TOUR DINNER GUESTS visit various departments at St. Elizabeth Hospital in a get-acquainted program which has been resumed by the Lay Advisory Board and the hospital administration. They are shown here in operating room garb after visiting these facilities.

Tour Dinners Resume At St. Elizabeth's

A program of tour dinners has been resumed at St. Elizabeth Hospital through the cooperation of the lay advisory board and the administration.

The dinners, first initiated in June 1966, serve as an opportunity for persons to see behind the scenes at the local health facility.

Hosts at a tour dinner last week were A. E. Michel, a member of the lay advisory board, and his wife. Department visitors were the emergency room, x-ray, I.C.U., physical therapy and operating room.

Sister Mary Frances and Sister Mary George represented the hospital. Assisting with the tour were Carl Freeman, Miss Jackie Haug, R.P.T., Mrs. Barbara Keel, R.N., and Mrs. Beatrice Harlan, R.N.

Written Requests Needed For 1967 Crop Reseal Loans

Growers who want to participate in the extended price-storage loan program for certain 1967 crops are being reminded that they will need to give written notice of their intentions before the original loan maturity date. The 1967 crops eligible for resale—"extended" loans—are wheat, corn, sorghum, soybeans, oats, and barley.

There has been some misunderstanding about the need to file a written notice on resale. It can be determined that the crop can be safely stored on the farm. For eligible 1967 crops, however, extended loans are being offered on crops stored both on farms and in commercial warehouses as an aid to orderly marketing. The program gives more farmers an opportunity to better plan long-range marketing with a goal of improved prices.

The government pays the storage charges during the resale period but not during the period of the original loan.

Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m., followed by a buffet dinner and a business meeting to begin at 7:30 p.m. to be conducted by Edward Maddox of Waterloo, recently re-elected as chairman.

Main speaker will be Jack Kirkland, assistant professor, school of social service, St. Louis University, whose topic will be "Working with the Unmotivated Client." A dance program will be presented by the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern dance group.

Belgian Organist to Present Concert at St. John Church

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Namecki road, will sponsor an organ recital at the church on Feb. 25 at 3:30 p.m. No tickets will be sold but donations will be taken at the church.

Kameli D'Hooghe, Belgian concert organist will play music of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries at the recital.

He was born in Belgium in 1929 and was awarded the highest possible organ diploma from the Royal Flemish Conservatory, Antwerp, and was Laureate at the International Bach Competition in Ghent and First Laureate at the International Organ Competition in Munich in 1955. In 1956, he was awarded the Bach Medal by the Harriet Cohen Foundation.

This is Mr. D'Hooghe's first American tour. He has presented concerts in Belgium, England, France, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Portugal, Ireland, Poland and Yugoslavia. He is now organist at the

Feed Grain, Wheat Signup Setting Record

This is the biggest sign-up yet," said Lee Rogers, office manager of the Madison county ASCS office. "We've got them hanging from the rafters," he said.

This is the start of the third week in the six week sign-up period and we must have 600 farms signed up in either the feed grain or wheat program or both. Wheat signers are way ahead of the feed grain signers according to Rogers.

Since we only have three more weeks to go, we are urging farmers to get in and sign up at their earliest convenience. We're shooting for 1000 farms in feed grain and 2000 in wheat, plus twice as many acres diverted this year than last, Rogers said.

The more we sign up and divert now, the better chance we will have for a decent price for grain this fall. Participation in these programs also reduces some of your risks of farming. "Our motto: 'Participate in '68,'" Rogers said.

SIU Experiment in Teaching Philosophy to HS Students

A seven-year experiment in teaching philosophy to high school teenagers has convinced Willis Moore, chairman of the philosophy department at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, that the subject is not too difficult, too abstract nor too disturbing for high school juniors and seniors.

Moore believes the recognized values of philosophy in the college level curriculum can be absorbed by high school students.

"Philosophy, properly taught in high school, engenders a reflective, critical and evaluative attitude in the students," he said. "Moreover, it tends to produce breadth of perspective and to induce humility in the practitioner."

Ways and Means Problems
Moore started to teach philosophy at SIU's University School seven years ago. His experience has convinced him the difficulties are not in the students' ability to grasp the subject but "have to do with ways and means of instruction."

The greatest practical difficulty is that of finding qualified teachers, he said. "This problem could be resolved by training philosophy teachers at summer workshops."

Another decision that bothers the teachers is the area of philosophy to be taught. Moore thinks this should be determined by the qualifications and enthusiasm of the teacher.

Philosophy to HS Students

Successful HS Courses
"Successful courses in ethics, logic, aesthetics, history of philosophy and even in the philosophy of science are being taught in American high schools," Moore said.

In 1955, Moore was asked by the editor of a curriculum newsletter published by the National Association of Secondary School Principals to describe his high school course. His article brought queries and comments from educators in 44 states, the District of Columbia, and seven foreign countries.

Moore, a native of Butler, Mo., is a graduate of the University of Missouri. He holds the master of arts degree from the University of Missouri and the doctor of philosophy from the University of California at Berkeley. He has been on the faculty of SIU since 1955.
